Re: Brown v Wells Fargo (11-CV-1362 (JRT/JJG))

Dear Judge Tunheim;

It came to my attention yesterday while I was updating my ECF records that the above-referenced case had been closed even though outstanding issues remained in it, such as the amount of damages and the attorney fees and costs to be awarded. I reviewed my email and did not see that I had previously been provided notice that the case would closed. I immediately contacted the Court and Janet informed me that I could file a letter requesting that it be reopened.

Because outstanding issues remain in the case I assume that the closing was a clerical error and would respectfully request that it be reopened and the scheduling order reinstated.

Sincerely,
